

When considering the idea of giving priority to LPFM, please realize that I may lose my favorite radio station in the process. K-LOVE radio is important to myself and my community because it provides a very positive message that I feel comfortable sharing with my children and their friends. This community is served by K-LOVE because of the encouragement provided to many who listen to this broadcast as a part of their daily life. Just the other day the pizza guy at my door had K-LOVE blaring from his car and it was wonderful to know he shared our values and the values of this wonderful radio station. There aren't many radio stations that provide solid advice on marriage and family, while at the same time play the kind of music that supports a healthy moral lifestyle. Never have I worried about inappropriate comments or words that might hurt my children. This station is integral to my life as well as the lives of many of my friends and family members.
